JACOBS SCHOOL BLUE NOTES MARCH 4, 2021

A Note from the Principal

This has been such a fun week at the Jacob School. You may or may not have seen yesterday's Jacobs Schoolmade Channel 5 Wake Up Call. Here is the link in case you missed it: https://wcvb.com/article/wake-up-call-from-the-100th-day-of-school/35707576 As I stated in the press release, this year's 100th day has a greater meaning. As a school, we have been able to do more than most schools with our in-person learning. I continue to be grateful for the commitment from teachers and families for our success!

The Read-A-Thon is in full swing. Each morning the minutes are tallied and added to the reading thermometers outside each classroom, showing students how much closer their class is to their reading goal. The Reading Pirate delivers clues each morning for students to figure out the Pirate's favorite books. I have a feeling we will surpass our reading goal this year.

Kindergarten registration is underway, and we are also accepting Preschool Applications for Fall 2021. All registration documents are available on the school website. This year we will have in-person 15-minute appointments on May 5 for preschool families to visit our preschool classrooms and meet our staff.

We have attached next year's school calendar. Our first day of school for the 2021-2022 school year is September 1. Don't worry; we aren't rushing the start of next year. We still have 68 more days of school and then 75 days of glorious summer!
